WATER RATE INCREASE IS PERMITTED

COMPANY ALLOWED A HIGHER SCHEDULE FOR WATER SERVICE IN ALBANY-DECATUR

Decision of the Public Service
Commission Announced
Thursday Afternoon

ONE SESSION MARKED
BY LIVELY VERBAL TILT

Attorney Callahan and President
Weakley Argue—President
Kennedy Intervened

The increased water rates, sought by the Alabama Water Company in a petition before the Public Service Commission, was granted by that body this afternoon, according to an International News Service dispatch to The Daily from Montgomery.

Heard on the petition was concluded Tuesday afternoon late, following arguments against the increase by City Attorneys Callahan and Tidwell, of Decatur and Albany, respectively, and the commission announced it would make public a decision after further deliberation.

Tuesday afternoon's session was marked by a lively verbal tilt between Attorney Callahan and President Weakley of the water company, it became known here today. Sam P. Kennedy, president of the commission, intervened.

The decision of the commission brings to an end a campaign of several months' duration by the company to obtain a higher rate in the Twin Cities. The petition for intervention by the commission was refused by that body when it was originally presented, because of lack of jurisdiction. Under a new state law, adopted by the legislature last year, the commission was given the authority to supervise the rates in all municipalities.

Park Waterpower Sites Are Opposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The well organized effort to obtain through Congress water power and reservoir sites in the national parks has aroused a nation-wide storm of protest and many organizations have combined in defense of America's natural playgrounds.

The immediate point of attack is Yellowstone National Park and powerful influence is being brought to bear on Congress, it is said, to effect the passage of a bill that would permit the erection of a dam in Yellowstone river to store up the flood waters in the Yellowstone Park for irrigation purposes.

The National Park Service, the Sierra Club, Boone and Crockett Club, Appalachian Club, National Association of Audubon Societies and many other similar organizations are strenuously opposing the alleged attempt to commercialize the national parks.

The Automobile Campaign is almost finished. Two more days and all will be over but the counting of the votes and the division of the spoils. Two days to hustle, of earnest, constant devotion to a winning cause. It is a worth-while battle—and one worth winning. Splendid work has been done by each and every contestant in this campaign and it is the greatest subscription contest ever held in this section. It justly deserves this distinction, as some of the best folks in the community are entered as active workers. But the awards are in keeping with the big undertaking and the general public has given its endorsement by encouraging the contestants in their efforts.

A statement issued by the census bureau declared that the trend of population from the country to the city is shown in the 1920 population figures and that of the total population of the United States, 54,314,476 are living in urban territory and 51,394,295 in rural districts.

PROBE OF "DRY" OFFICERS PUSHED

MORE FACTS AND POSSIBLY NAMES PROMISED IN THE INVESTIGATION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—More facts and possibly more names in the government's investigation of graft among "dry" law officers, owners of breweries and other liquor producers in Pennsylvania were promised today as the internal revenue bureau directed a speeding up in the investigation ordered by Revenue Commissioner Williams.

Several government officials already have been inspected, one of these under arrest being a revenue officer entrusted with the duty of approving and disapproving the operation of breweries and distilleries. Many dry law agents and revenue men in the field are being investigated in the general probe to rid the service of men who are using government jobs as a means of cleaning up small fortunes in "rake-offs."

PERMIT TO DRILL IN BALLOONISTS DUE MORGAN COUNTY IN SEARCH FOR OIL IS RECEIVED LOCALLY

operation Here Has Been

ENTHUSIASM FEATURES
STOCKHOLDERS MEET

Unofficially Stated That Capital
Stock of the Concern
Will be $150,000

Completion of all necessary steps, preliminary to actual drilling for oil here is being accomplished rapidly, persons interested in the development announced today. One of the last barriers was removed yesterday when a permit to drill was received from the United States Government. The delay in receipt of the permit has caused a short delay in the schedule of the oil organization.

Those financially interested in the venture held a meeting yesterday and while no official announcement was made today, it was understood that the plans were gone over thoroughly and that much enthusiasm marked the gathering. The oil operators who have visited the local field recently were declared to be unanimously of the opinion that oil in large quantities will be found here.

It was understood today that the officers for the company have been tentatively agreed upon, but will not be formally elected until after the incorporation papers have been filed. One report declared that the incorporation papers would be filed in Delaware. Many corporations have incorporated in that state because of its advantageous laws.

From an authoritative source it was learned, however, that the papers have not yet been filed. The plans of organization have been taken up with the state authorities in Alabama and word is being awaited from them.

Unofficially it was stated the capital stock of the local concern probably would be $150,000, with from $70,000 to $80,000 paid in.

RIVER DRAGGED FOR PLANE'S VICTIMS

SLEEVELESS OVERCOAT SUS-TAINS THEORY GARMENT IN PROPELLER CAUSED WRECK

(International News Service)
TIPTONVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 13.—At sunrise today a fleet of boats commenced dragging the river in search of the bodies of Captain George H. Simpson, Toronto pilot, and Carl Fisher, Dayton mechanic, following the finding late yesterday afternoon of the plane which Sunday plunged into the river from a height of 500 feet. The plane was raised from the river bottom. Some personal belongings of the men were found but no trace of the bodies. A sleeveless overcoat added weight to the theory that an overcoat, blown into the propeller, caused the wrecking of the plane. The men were on a tour of river towns distributing movie films.

CHARLES HARDMAN DIES AT HIS HOME HERE AS RESULT OF A BULLET WOUND

Prominent Citizen Passes Away at His Apartment on Second Avenue

HAD BEEN IN FAILING HEALTH FOR SOMETIME

Hundreds of Friends Shocked by Untimely Death of Prominent Citizen

Funeral arrangements are being completed by the Royal Arch Masons for Charles T. Hardman, for many years one of the most popular engineers on this division of the Louisville and Nashville, who died this morning at his apartment on Second avenue as the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound. Although funeral arrangements had not been completed today, it was probable that interment will take place in Birmingham Thursday, services being conducted by the Masons.

Mr. Hardman retired several years ago, following a wreck in which he was severely injured. His health has not been of the best since that time, but friends this morning were shocked by his untimely death. It was stated that he had recently perfected an invention which would double the power of steam locomotives and would have made him wealthy.

According to Mrs. Hardman her husband arose about 5 o'clock this morning and went to the chifforobe in their bedroom.

"What are you looking for?" she asked.

"This," he replied, touching his gun. Before Mrs. Hardman could intervene one shot was fired and Mr. Hardman fell with a wound in his right temple. He died before medical assistance could aid him.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, Elder Hardman of Birmingham, W. S. Hardman of Birmingham, Jas. L. Hardman of Montgomery, C. T. Hardman Jr. of New York; a daughter, Miss Lula J. Hardman, of Albany.

During his long residence here Mr. Hardman made hundreds of friends in North Alabama and his loss will be deeply mourned. His kindly nature had endeared him to a large circle here.

It was announced this afternoon that the body will be taken to Birmingham Thursday at noon and from the station there direct to the cemetery, the Masons in charge.

Walter Miller to Be Candidate for Secretary State

Walter F. Miller of Tusculum, editor of the Colbert County Reporter, may become a candidate for secretary of state in Alabama in 1922, according to a rumor coming from Montgomery, where Mr. Miller spent several days this week attending the session of the electoral college.

Mr. Miller served last year as supervisor of the census in the Eighth District, was secretary of the senate during the recent session of the legislature and is wide and favorably known throughout the state. His friends predict he would make a strong race.

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 13.—William Beard, striking coal miner, who was in jail at Jasper, Walker county, charged with the killing of James Morris, state militiaman, was taken from the jail by a masked mob Thursday morning, carried in an automobile to a point on the Manchester road, about two and a half miles north of Jasper, and his body riddled with bullets.

UNITED STATES TO MAKE PROTEST ON OFFICER'S DEATH

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The United States will make formal protest to Japan concerning the shooting of Lieutenant W. H. Langdon, U. S. Navy, by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok, the State Department announced today. The diplomatic question involved is whether the Japanese troops have the right to challenge an American citizen in Vladivostok. The protest will be made through the American diplomatic representative in Japan.

The latest report in Japan indicates the shooting was done by an excitable sentry and was the act of an individual, State Department officials said.

REGRET EXPRESSED

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—"Regret" was expressed in a statement issued by the war office today, admitting that Lieutenant W. H. Langdon, chief engineer of the American cruiser Albany, had been shot and killed by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok. The war office statement declared that an investigation is under way.

The announcement from the war office was the first official admission here of the shooting.

Admiral Gleaves in a report last night said:

"Sentry claims his suspicions were aroused by seeing a foreigner flashing a hand lamp, that he ran across the street and called to him to halt, and that as he came near the foreigner fired one revolver shot at him; that he fired his rifle and then the foreigner fired two more shots and the sentry fired one more shot. Sentry claims that he ran back for the guard, but that the foreigner had gone when sentry and guard returned."

Langdon's statement is as follows:

"That he was returning to ship, using a hand lamp, and when he was on the sidewalk on the side opposite to the Japanese division headquarters, (Continued on Page 2)

RULES FOR THE CLOSE OF BIG AUTOMOBILE CONTEST GIVEN

The Automobile Campaign closes Saturday night at 12 o'clock midnight, January 15.

All subscriptions and money or checks to cover them must be in the ballot box or in The Daily building to be placed in the ballot box or in the mails enroute by that time.

The doors of The Daily office will be closed and locked promptly at 12 o'clock Saturday night and no one will be allowed to enter after that time and turn in subscriptions.

However, it is possible that all those who are in the building with subscriptions to deposit in the ballot box will not be able to be waited upon and their subscriptions deposited by 12 o'clock. Therefore those persons who are inside the building at that time will be given sufficient time to make their deposit in the ballot box.

So that the contestants residing outside the city may have the same advantage in time as those more conveniently located to The Daily office, all subscriptions received bearing a postmark showing they were mailed before midnight Saturday will be accepted by the judges. This rule is made to give all an equal length of time to devote to taking subscriptions during the remainder of the contest. BE SURE TO SEE THAT THE LETTER BEARS A POSTMARK SHOWING IT WAS MAILED BY SATURDAY AT MIDNIGHT.

Personal checks turned in by the contestants in payment for subscriptions collected should be certified. This will expedite the judges' work and enable a quicker announcement of the winners.

BEARD TAKEN FROM WALKER JAIL; BODY RIDDLED BY A MOB

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 13.—William Beard, striking coal miner, who was in jail at Jasper, Walker county, charged with the killing of James Morris, state militiaman, was taken from the jail by a masked mob Thursday morning, carried in an automobile to a point on the Manchester road, about two and a half miles north of Jasper, and his body riddled with bullets.

The body was discovered by a mail carrier on the Manchester road about 7:30 o'clock. The attack on the jail was made about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning and apparently was pre-arranged. J. F. Sides, jailer, heard some loud knocking on the front door to the jail. When he refused to admit the mob, three men scaled the fence to the rear of the jail and battered down the back door. Armed with revolvers they forced Sides to open the front door.

The mob then took the keys from the jailer, unlocked Beard's cell, placed him in an automobile and rode off in a northerly direction.

First Thought Friends Going to the fact that the members of the mob wore overalls and some of them wore miners' caps, it was at first believed that Beard had been rescued by fellow miners.

Searching parties were immediately formed and passed started in all directions. The mail carrier found the body lying beside the road, literally shot to pieces. He reported the "find" to Coroner A. B. Lee, who went out immediately and took charge.

Ten pistol balls and rifle bullets were fired into the body. The fact that the first impression was that Beard was being rescued by friends caused the search to be made out toward the mining fields.

At 11 o'clock Sheriff Guttery was still leading a portion of the posse in efforts to pick up the trail of the mob.

Officials Notified General Steiner, in command of the troops in the strike zone; Conrad W. Austin, chief law enforcement officer of the state, and other officers in Bir- mingham were notified and in a short time instructions were issued to spare no efforts in effecting the mob's cap- ture. Great excitement prevailed at Jasper and the entire section is aroused.

Beard shot and killed James Morris while Morris was on military duty December 23. Morris had killed Beard's father-in-law, John Northcutt. While a companion of Morris was after assistance Beard came up and shot and killed Morris.

Conrad Austin stated he had given instructions to his men to thoroughly investigate the matter and bring the participants to justice. He will personally go to Jasper.

ADVERTISING SELLS ANYTHING

If there is a product of any merit whatever which newspaper advertising, thoughtfully prepared, will not sell, that product remains undiscovered. When prohibition went into effect, the manufacturer of a well known brand of light wine decided to continue operations by de-alcoholizing his product and selling it through the use of newspaper advertising columns.

It was a difficult task. Persons accustomed to the use of alcohol do not readily lend themselves to the use of a drink which has no "kick." It was particularly difficult then to sell to practically the identical clientele a beverage which once was alcoholic, but which now is not.

The story of the successful effort to market the drink is interestingly told in an advertisement of an advertising agency in the current issue of The Fourth Estate. The agency says:

When the Prohibition Law was passed, the future of wine looked dark, but it was found that scientific de-alcoholizing after the wine had been fermented and matured left the flavor undisturbed. In fact, even with the alcohol removed, concentration slightly intensified the taste.

For nearly one hundred years has been the popular light wine in all parts of the country, and it was more largely consumed than any other single brand in the United States, either domestic or imported.

But—would the people be as eager for wine without the alcohol? There was only one way to find out, and that was by extensive Newspaper advertising.

No great splash of space was used, conservative copy and strong appetite appeal being the rule. It was explained that while the wine now contained less than 1/2 of 1% of alcohol as prescribed by law, the flavor remained the same; was just as delightful plain, or mixed in punches, cobbler, highballs, cocktails and rickies as of yore.

The response was almost instantaneous. The sale of wine without the alcohol exceeded $300,000 monthly, the highest record in the history of the Company.

This is specific evidence of the power of Newspaper advertising in overcoming a real crisis.

Do you crave the taste of your old-time sales kick?

A FATHER OF 34

If North Carolina had many Reuben Blands the census enumerator would be required to make monthly tabulations were the increase in population of the state to be correctly estimated Bland is the father of 34 children.

It's quite a record. But there appears to be wide divergence of opinion on whether or not it is a record to be proud of. A notable instance of this is contained in a letter received by Bland from a man in Ohio: "I read in the paper the story about your large family. I read it aloud to my wife. 'That man should have a medal,' I said. 'He ought to be hanged,' she retorted."

On the other hand, Bland's record will serve as an encouragement to the average American father who has been trying to beat the high cost of living and at the same time rear a family of five, six or even seven. Another Ohioan writes to Mr. Bland: "I am the father of eight children, and I have had an awfully hard time keeping them in food and clothing. I've worried a lot, but since reading about your big family, I realize that I'm a lucky guy."

Americans are fond of records, however, and the majority of them will be inclined to shout "Three Cheers for Bland" and they might as well add "Six Cheers for Mrs. Bland."

THE WOMAN'S VOTE

The Rome Tribune publishes a dispatch from a Georgia community regarding a municipal election, the feature of which was the fact that no women voted, notwithstanding that they had the opportunity. Further on in the story we learn that the candidate for mayor was unopposed. Possibly that is the reason. Voting in an election in which the candidate has no opposition would hardly appeal to the ladies' bargain hunting spirit.

GOVERNOR MILLER'S FIGHT BEGINS

With his first message to the Legislature Governor Miller begins his fight to chop the state's estimated expenditures from some $202,000,000 to at most $140,000,000 and put the management of its affairs on a business basis. Boiled down to their essence his resolve for himself and recommendations to the law makers are as follows:

Put off, until the heavily involved state government gets on its financial legs again, all new construction.

Do maintenance work on present construction, as far as possible, out of available funds already appropriated.

Stop mortgaging the future revenues of the state far in advance by authorizing numbers of projects without providing the money to pay the bills or knowing how they even can be paid.

Knock the props from under useless but costly bureaucracy by consolidation and elimination, with abolishment of superfluous salaries.

Take great administrative powers out of the feeble hands of paralyzing commissions and lodge them in the strong hands of competent managers.

Abandon visionary control of theoretic problems and concentrate upon the practical, necessary labors of effective government.

Governor Miller says the state can save in this way half a million dollars a year of the printing board waste. And it can. He says it can save a million dollars in the various tax agencies. And it can. He says it can save another million in the industrial commission. And it can. He says it can save half a million in mental and physical experimentation, more than half a million in the military training commission, hundreds of thousands each in the department of narcotic drug control, the bureau of the superintendent of elections, the board of port wardens, the health officer of the port of New York, etc. And it can.

This program of Governor Miller means a fight. It means a fight not only against the professional office holder and state contractor but the uplift dreamer and the incurable law promoter, all devoted, whatever their purpose, to ventures and schemes that demand the spending of the taxpayers' money. It means disappointment, bitterness and passion from powerful interests as well as from noisy clergymen. But if Governor Miller will stick to his program, and if the Legislature will stand with him shoulder to shoulder, the voters of this state, regardless of party lines and other political issues, will back them both up to the limit.—New York Herald.

PENAL LEGISLATION

Already the statute books of the state and nation are crowded with "Thou Shalt Not" statutes. Comparatively few of them are enforced. The law of laws, in force upon the statute books of all civilized nations from the time that it was thundered from Mt. Sinai, "Thou Shalt Not Kill" is observed more in the breach in this country than otherwise. Never in the history of the nation has human life been so cheap as it is today. Never in the history of our own county has there been so little fear of the law against murder as it is felt now. During the past score of years large numbers of people have been killed in Maury county but few of them have been punished. Several persons have met violent deaths and no indictments were ever returned by the grand jury. Conditions here are not measurably worse than they are in other sections of the country. This is all due to a lack of respect for the law, the failure of courts to function properly, and a general contempt for the machinery of the law. It is an evil condition and one that is fraught with great danger to the public.

There is but one remedy and that is an awakened public sentiment, a real, insistent demand for the enforcement of laws that are vital to the safety of society and the preservation of civilization. Matters are not going to be improved by adding further to our penal statutes. Laws are not self-executing and until they are the attention of the would-be saviors should be devoted to the task of creating sentiment that will make them effective. We must overcome the fallacy that legislative fiat can do anything. If one half of our penal statutes could be repealed and the other half enforced this would be a happier and safer country in which to live.—Columbia Daily Herald.

WORK FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT

The announcement that President-elect Harding will invite the vice president to the cabinet table opens up a field of work for this official that will be new, but that should be welcome both to the vice president and to the country. Being a man without a job is not a thing that appeals to the average American.

The vice presidency is called the second office in the country. It is a position that stands next to the president and the man who fills it should be of presidential size. Five times during our history he has been called upon to step into the place of his superior, hence the chances are not remote in any case that the vice president will become president.

In Vice President-elect Coolidge the country expects to find a man that will not be a cipher. He has been a man of action and will make himself felt in the affairs of the nation. The country will watch the experiment with interest, hoping that it may prove of value to the government.—Huntsville Telegram.

When old hens quit scratching for worms, will be time enough for workers in the Auto contest to let up selling Daily subscriptions.

The loud noises heard in certain quarters were not dangerous, nor should they have alarmed anybody. They were only sounds caused by the breaking of New Year's resolutions.

When Constantine's goose is finally cooked, it will be discovered that he was the cook.

Wishing for a rushing business is like wishing for fair weather; but working and advertising for big business will get it.

If there was a larger expanse of water between England and Ireland, their wide separation in sympathy would not make so much difference.

It is just possible John Barleycorn, by mistake of course, got hold of some of that new stuff called "Adrenalin." He seems to be coming to life down a few of the dark alleys.

The Republicans may appreciate the blaze of sentiment in the Tennessee Valley for the full development of Muscle Shoals. But if the same blaze of sentiment, could by some miracle place the Shoals in a big Northern state—nuf sed.

There is no use of being impressive, solemn or too circumspect—just be sincere, that is enough.

For the next twelve months, rather than dumping your woes on others, try to be interested in their welfare.

If the women keep their campaign pledges no better than they do their plighted word to "obey," politics will remain normal as far as the fair sex is concerned.

The moans of the millions of hungry children are being heard around the world.

Emergency Rate Permitted on Cars

The emergency rate on local street cars, with a maximum of 8 cents, was approved of by the Alabama Public Service commission in a decision handed down this week.

It was declared here today that a misleading headline appeared in a Birmingham newspaper to the effect that the mayors of Albany and Decatur, while in Montgomery at the time, were silent on the petition of the councils of the Twin Cities already had approved the rate, in order that the employees of the company might have a living wage, and that the rate already was in effect.

The sentry ran across the street taking the position charge bayonets to the left and about six feet in front of him; that he halted until the sentry said "Amerikanski," to which he replied that he was; and walked on past the sentry; that when he was about six feet beyond the sentry, sentry fired at him, the ball striking him in the back, at which he turned and fired two revolver shots. The sentry then permitted him to proceed to the ship.

"Langdon was in full uniform and both the clothes and the wounds show that he was shot in the back, the ball passing out at the left side of chest."

"All Japanese officials are much concerned and call frequently, offering every assistance in their power. The result of the investigation will be reported to you."

KEPT SESSIONS OF THE LEAGUE SECRET

ONLY TWO DELEGATES IN FIRST ASSEMBLY FOR OPEN MEETING

By NEWTON C. PARKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, Jan. 13.—Only two of the more than 115 delegates in the first assembly of the League of Nations openly advocated public discussions of the important questions to be solved by the assembly's six committees.

They were Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, and Sir James Allen, the delegate from New Zealand. Cecil surrendered under a heavy fire from Viviani, of the French delegation; Tittoni, of the Italian delegation, and Fisher, head of the delegation representing the United Kingdom of Great Britain. He agreed to the Viviani plan, by which the committees meet in secret and issue brief statements to the world, giving publicity only to facts approved by a majority. Allen's earnest plea for the admission of newspaper representatives to all committee meetings left the delegates cold. He realized that his case was lost and made no further attempt to press it after Cecil had yielded to the opposition.

"I suggest," said the New Zealand representative, "that we amend these rules to read 'the debates should not be private.' Then it will be for each committee to decide how many correspondents may be admitted."

"In support of this proposal permit me to draw attention to the importance of publicity as indicated in the treaty of Versailles. Those who signed that treaty looked upon enlightened public opinion as one of the most, if not the most, potent factors in connection with peace, and in this I agree with them."

For Open Meeting

"This assembly has been brought into existence by documents which seek, through publicity, to remove suspicion and thus lay the foundation for a good understanding between the peoples of the world. The spirit which permeates the treaties of peace must live in this assembly if it is to set the high example which is surely expected and to play its part in the education of public opinion, and if it is to be—as we all hope it may—the most potent factor for the peace and good of the world, I do not ignore the possibility that the freedom proposed may be misused by some sections of the press, but it is surely wise to take this risk in full assurance that the vast majority of those who speak to the public through the columns of the press will be actuated by that same spirit which is in the peace treaties and in this assembly, and that they will use the privilege granted to them to further the humanitarian purposes of all good men and women strive for."

MRS. SKEGGS ENTERTAINS

Yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. C. M. Kortrecht, 714 Oak street, Mrs. H. A. Skeggs entertained the Married Ladies' Bridge Club with three additional tables of guests. Bridge was featured at six tables, the prizes for score, hand-made handkerchiefs and Mary Garden face powder, falling to Mrs. B. P. Wallace and Mrs. Harbin Miller. Mrs. I. W. Cunningham caught the consolation, a dainty hand-made handkerchief. After the game the hostess was assisted by her daughters, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Mrs. C. M. Kortrecht, in serving a tempting refreshment consisting of chicken salad, beaten biscuit, olives and coffee. Mrs. Skeggs' guest list included the members of the Married Ladies' Bridge and Messdames J. H. Donnell, D. W. Speake, J. W. Cunningham, I. M. Jones Sr., E. W. Godbey, H. Miller, P. F. Tidwell, J. A. Cline, B. S. Barry, P. Crawford, J. W. Knight and Miss Mary Lou Dancy.

MRS. R. S. McFADDEN HONORED

Mrs. R. S. McFadden of Greensboro, Ala., who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Rush, was the inspiration for a prettily planned card party Wednesday afternoon when her hostess complimented her. Mrs. Rush had chosen a color motif of red and green in her house decorations, red carnations and ferns in silver baskets and vases being used, with lighted red tapers in silver candlesticks. Four tables were arranged for the bridge game, in which Mrs. Rufus Pierson was the fortunate contestant, winning the first prize, Mary Garden toilet water. Mrs. Rush presented Mrs. McFadden a lovely souvenir of the afternoon. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Daniell and Mrs. W. B. Williams, served an elaborate salad course. Mrs. Rush's guests were Messdames W. C. Bailey, R. Pierson, E. P. Calvin, W. B. Williams, P. Cartwright, H. N. Binford, G. McDuff, H. Carpenter, J. Y. Hamit, C. S. Dougherty, J. R. Daniell and the honor guest, Mrs. McFadden.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE

The mothers of Central Ward will please remember the meeting of the School Improvement League at Gordon school Friday at 3 p. m. There are important matters to be discussed and a full attendance is desired. Members from other wards are cordially invited. New members will be welcome.

Mrs. Chas. Malone, president.

SILK STOCKING CLUB

The Silk Stocking Club met Wednesday afternoon at the Hilda Hotel with Mrs. Wallace Carson, hostess. Mrs. George Wallace, Mrs. Edwards and Miss Pansy Russell substituted for members. The club prize, a late book, went on the count to Mrs. Herbert Odum, while the guest prize, a dainty hand-made linen handkerchief, was presented Miss Russell. Mrs. Carson served a most tempting salad course.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Cunningham enroute from eastern points, returning from their honeymoon trip, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith for a few hours. Mrs. Cunningham (nee Miss Mary Geers) has frequently visited here, where she has many friends.

Mrs. C. L. Saunders and son Clifford Jr. returned yesterday afternoon from a delightful three weeks' visit to relatives and friends in Georgia and Florida.

Mrs. Ida Crook will entertain at her home in the Malone Apartments on Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Schmidt of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Irwin are in Washington, called there by the serious illness of Edward Albee.

Mrs. J. Robert Daniell will leave tomorrow for Tampa, Fla., to visit Mrs. Jessie Hall. From Tampa Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Daniell will motor to the east coast of Florida.

Chinese Purchase Tombstones and Then Give 'Em Back

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Jan. 13.—A Boston builder of monuments who for many years has been favored almost exclusively with the tombstone work of the New England Chinese, has observed two striking things about John Chinaman in Boston.

"The first," Harry, 2, Smith said, "is that in all our experience we have never known of a Chinaman to die in such circumstances that the city was called upon to pay his burial expenses. "And the second is that Chinese deaths invariably occur in the winter. During the summer months we have seldom, if ever, been called upon to produce a tombstone for one of them."

Another singular fact concerned with Chinese funerals in America is that ten years after the funeral the casket is disinterred and the body shipped to China. Every Chinaman finally is buried in the land of his ancestors.

"Usually," says Mr. Smith, "the tombstone comes back to us after this disinterment."

One of the most interesting sights in Greater Boston is the Chinese section of Mount Hope cemetery, in the Matapan district of Dorchester. Here the bodies of more than 500 Chinese from all parts of New England have been temporarily laid to rest.

(International News Service)
HATTIESBURG, Miss., Jan. 13.—Miss Belle Kearney, of Flora, prominent suffrage and prohibition worker, will tonight make formal announcement to the United States senatorship to succeed John Sharp Williams.

DRYNESS DISLIKED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—American passenger bearing steamship lines will either go out of business or transfer their passenger ships to foreign flags, unless permitted to sell liquors outside the three-mile coast limit, the House judiciary committee was told today by representatives of American steamship lines.

Source of Icebergs

The source of practically all the icebergs of the Arctic regions is Greenland. Owing to the northward set of the West Greenland current the bergs of this side are carried first to the north, and it is only at about the 74th or 75th parallel of latitude that they begin to make their way westward to come down on the American side.

COTTON MARKET GOES UP AGAIN

LISTS SHOW STRENGTH ON OPENING, DUE TO STRONG CABLES

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The cotton market was active and firm at the opening today with initial prices up 20 to 40 points, January reaching 18 cents. In the face of heavy profit-taking by Wall street, the list was well sustained after the start by trade buying and further covering of shorts, partly due to strong cables and better advices from Manchester. Private messages from Liverpool reported a good export demand for low grade. At the end of the first 20 minutes dealings were still active with late deliveries about 85 points above the previous close.

Whirlwind Finish Predicted in Big always at the top of the hill, and so it will be with the workers in the campaign. Some of them perhaps feel as though their race has been run, and they do not know which way to turn to secure more subscriptions. Now is the time to take new courage and determination and work harder than at any time during the race.

Half the failures in life are due to letting go just at the critical moment—by losing your grip—in other words becoming faint-hearted when the goal is within your reach. Don't waste the good work you have done and what your friends have done for you; this would not be a square deal. Don't put a hours of earnest, consistent effort—un a winning race up to the last lap—then feel that you have lost when final spurt would mean victory.

Preparedness
"In time of peace prepare for war." In this battle of votes one thing is certain and that is that if you have more votes than you need, you will win your prize. If you have one vote too few, you are certain of losing it. One thing must be remembered, and that is that the prize you are working for is the prize that your competitors are aiming to win also, and in this natured rivalry you must be the superior vote-getter in order to claim the reward. There is constant urging up and down in any contest for prize position. The "ups" are trying to get there, and the "downs" are doing everything in their power to displace the "ups." Don't be too certain of your position as the subscriptions and votes secured this final week of the contest will decide just who will win the big prizes.

End Is in Sight
There is plenty of time in which to provide you work hard; over confidence lost many a battle. You have undoubtedly put in a lot of hard and conscientious work since the beginning of the campaign and have secured the assistance of your friends. Now do not by any means rest on your oars the last of the race. The race has come very close. Contestants are running along "neck and neck" and if you are to be "there" with the winners at the final count, it is up to you to keep continually at it as you have in the past. But a few days and it will all be over but the shouting, and you surely want to be among the shouters.

All Mothers Will Find Use For This Laxative

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a constipated child and note its quick recovery.

IN a growing family the subject of thought with the parents is how to keep the children healthy and happy, and what to do when they become ill. Most illnesses of childhood are the symptoms of constipation, such as headaches, coated tongues, flatulence, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, biliousness, etc.

You can surely feel safe in doing what tens of thousands of others do with good results, so give, according to the age of the child, a small quantity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought last year at drug stores. It is America's favorite family remedy for constipation, indigestion and similar ills, and is especially suitable for children, women and old folks as it is so mild and gentle in action.

There is no secret about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. Druggists have sold it for thirty years, and a sixty cent bottle will last for months. Experienced mothers are never without it in the house.

LADY ASTOR SCOLDS WOMEN FOR THEIR LACK OF LOYALTY

Tricks to Do Something to Benefit Womankind Only to Be Met with Most Distressing Apathy—Says They Are Not as Loyal as the Men and Should Adopt a Continuity of Styles Same as Men Folks Do.

By E. C. PEEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Lady Astor, who has a frank way of revealing her innermost thought and opinions almost equal to that of the much-discussed and a little maligned Lady Asquith, in reading a few sermons to her own sex.

Unlike the ex-premier's wife, Lady Astor seems able to be distressingly frank in her remarks and criticisms of men, and is not afraid to voice her own views.

"I had not been so busy at the time with a large family I would have been out demonstrating with the suffragettes."

"But now that we have achieved our purpose, what do we find?"

"I, during most of my time, am engaged in trying to do something for the benefit of womankind, only to be met with the most depressing apathy on their part. They will do very little for themselves."

Women Lack Loyalty

"We can learn very much from men. One thing we can learn is loyalty. There is very little loyalty among women today."

"I am glad that the days of the clinging, dependent woman are over. When I was a child I used to read about the heroines who fainted at the sight of a rat, and I wondered if when I grew up I would be like that."

"This is a testing time for women, but when I walk down Bond street and see the way they dress, I think they have been tested and failed."

"We should be more conservative and imitate the men. We should learn continuity of dress from the men. What would we think of the men changed the length of their trousers every year?"

After, which she declared she had made a rambling speech because her mind was muddled a little by being the only woman in the House of Commons.

Conspiracy on Styles

The Daily Chronicle jumps right into the fray with an editorial presumed to be in support of the Lady M. P.

"The fact of the matter surely is that changes of fashions in women's dress have been due to a kind of conspiracy between the fashion-shops on the one hand and women on the other," says the Chronicle. "Both have had a common interest, on the part of the one to sell many dresses or hats as possible; on the part of the other, to secure as many as possible. The fashion served women, insofar as they were dependent upon men, as pretexts for exacting more dresses, hats and what not than they could otherwise have plausibly claimed. In proportion as the women really become independent, the common bond between them and the inventor of new fashions will diminish, and that which has hitherto been only a tyranny exercised over them can be maintained only insofar as it remains a tyranny voluntarily submitted to by women."

Somehow the issue doesn't seem to be particularly clarified by the Chronicle's very learned analysis, after all.

ARMY RECRUITING TOTAL IS CLIMBING

"If your discharge has been sent to Washington and has not been returned, write to the U. S. MUCH INTEREST IN HARTSELLE GAME

MORGAN COUNTY HIGH WILL MEET AUSTINVILLE BASKETEERS ON FRIDAY

No game on the Austinville schedule has created more interest than the approaching game with the Morgan County high school.

The M. C. H. S. boys of Hartselle naturally feel that they are and by rights ought to be "lord of all basketball in the county of Morgan." To far them from this belief is the job Captain Briscoe's team have assigned themselves, and, too, the captain is expecting to do his share in converting the visitors who journey here for a hectic struggle Friday afternoon, this being the first game of the season on the home court, and many spectators are expected.

The team is in excellent condition since no injuries were suffered on the trip to Belle Mina. Great things are expected of all the team, especially Ryan, who has been showing great form. In fact all the team is showing its usual form.
